Supreme Court Renders Decision on Election Issue

OPINION IS SET ASIDE

Judge Davis' Decision in Favor of McKeesport Won't Apply Now Locally

It is possible that Charleroi's burgess, tax collector and two additional councilmen may not be ripped out of office after all. Following on the heels of the decision of Judge Davis of the Allegheny county courts that the Legislative act extending the terms of these officials until the elections of 1913 was unconstitutional, comes another court decision that completely reverses the one rendered by Judge Davis. This decision is one rendered by the Supreme Court, and was made in a similar case which originated in the courts of Adams county.

The case in question was that of a director of the poor, whose term had been extended by the constitutional amendments which changed the elections. The contention was made that the term could not be extended, and another candidate was nominated and elected. The incumbent refused to vacate, and the successor who had been elected began ouster proceedings The lower court decided against the latter, and the case was appealed to the Supreme Court, which sustained the decision of the lower court. This decision has just been published and it was dug up in Pittsburg Monday, after the furore which prompted many candidates to file petitions for the offices which were at first thought hold over.

While petitions were filed from Charleroi for candidates for burgess, tax collector and the councilmen who were supposed to be ripped out if the decision of Judge Davis stood, the outcome is not yet decided. Up to the present time the county commissioners have not decided whether they will permit these officials' names to go on the ballot. They have been taking counsel on the matter, and yesterday H. R. Campbell, chief clerk, stated in a conversation by telephone that a decision would probably be made by tomorrow whether or not the names of burgess, tax collector and the additional councilmen affected would be permitted to appear on the ballot.

In view of the recent Supreme court decision, which has just now been dug up, it is rather expected that the commissioners will rule against permitting the names mentioned to appear on the ballot. It is probable that Judge Davis' decision may be appealed to the higher court, but it is the concensus of legal opinion now that the Supreme Court would

NEW SYSTEM TO BE INSTALLED

Belle Telephone Company Will Make Radical Changes in Local Plant

MOST COMPLETE IN VALLEY

This morning the C. D. and P. Telephone company received at their local office through the Western Electric Company new equipment which will be installed here. The Western Electric Company will put in the new system for the company here and the commercial traffic and plant departments will occupy the entire second floor of the Charleroi Savings and Trust company building.

The common battery system will be installed, which means that on January 1, 1912, the time proposed to have the work finished, Charleroi people wanting to get central will not have to exercise their muscles turning a crank to get central, but will merely have to lift the receiver and put it to their ear. Central will respond.

Not only will new plant equipment be necessary but new cable work and the requiring of all telephones will be installed. New telephone instruments will have to be installed. When finished the local plant will be one of the best and most complete along the valley.

SCHOOL BOARD VOTES TO PROVIDE A ROOM

Changes to be Made in Crest Avenue and Fifth Street Buildings to Give Space for High School

WILL ELECT NEW TEACHER AS SOON AS POSSIBLE

By accepting a report and the recommendation of the educational committee of which J. M. Hill is chairman, the school board at an adjourned meeting Monday night took action that will mean the establishment of another room for High School. The room will be prepared as soon as possible. No High School teacher was elected for the new room thus created and this matter will be taken up as soon as Prof James G. Pentz, the superintendent of Schools, can secure some applicants.

The plan of the educational committee and embodied in their recommendations is to move one of the primary rooms from the new Crest avenue building to the former church building adjoining. The grades will be moved down a room and one of the grades from the Fifth street school, probably the eigth grade will be moved to the Crest avenue building. This will make a place for the much needed High School room. Work will begin at once on fixing up the room in the former church building for occupancy and the change will be effected just as soon as possible. High School is so crowded now that the best work cannot be accomplished.

There was only a discussion of the matter of securing a new janitor for the Ninth street building to take the place of Frank Hough, whose death occurred last week. There are several applicants for the position and the election will occur a little later

President T. M. Faddis presided at the meeting and directors present were J. M. Hill, Charles Wallgren G. B. Nelan, Ira L. Nickeson and D.H. Glunt, none being absent.

DIPHTHERIA CASES ARE REPORTED HERE

Quarantine is Established at Three Different Homes in Charleroi

There are four cases of diptheria now in Charleroi according to the report of Health Offcer William Darby The town has been particularly free from contagious diseases during the summer. There are two cases of diphtheria at 702 Third street, one at 303 Meadow avenue and one at a home on Washington avenue, near Third street. Last week the schools at Daisytown were compelled to be closed on acocunt of an epidemic of diphtheria.

"AFFINITY" IS THE CAUSE OF A LOT OF TROUBLE

Two homes have been wrecked and two characters smirched because of the arrest last Friday of S. Irwin Lippencott, of East Waynesburg, and the probable arrest of Mrs. Myrta Gregg Shriver, of the same place, Lippencott's alleged soul mate, on indictments found by a Greene county grand jury.

A pretty face whose possessor has a $50,000 bank roll and an automobile for joy rides appears to have lured Lippencott to this domestic doom.

Lippencott who is a steam engineer, is aged 50 years, and is the father of five children, two of whom are married, and has a good motherly-looking wife. Mrs. Shirver is the spouse of P. A. Shriver, a liveryman of the town, and a highly respected citizen. She is aged 33 years of the brunet type of beauty, and is noted for her good looks. Mrs. Shriver who recently came into possession of a fortune inherited from her father will be called upon to defend herself against a $25,000 suit for damages.

Mrs. Lippencott will ask for the amount through her nephew C. W. Waycoff. district attorney of Greene county to help heal her wounded feelings.

The strange infatuation between Lippencott and Mrs. Shriver is the talk of the town. Two attempts to take their lives have been made. Six weeks ago Mrs Shriver had a physician remove three buckshots from her neck, after being fired at by an unknown assassin. One year ago Lippencott was shot from ambush. When taken to the Greene county hospital 10 birdshot were removed from his body.

Lippencott, in jail and unable to give bail, says he wants the world to understand that Mrs. Shriver is not his soulmate but that he is "her hired man." Mrs. Lippencott, unresentful of her husband's actions, says

CORONER SAYS TO GO AHEAD WITH REPAIRS

Ninth Street School Building Matter Taken Up--No Statement on Inquest

Ira L. Nickeson, secretary of the school board, proceeding under instructions of the board this morning telephoned to the Allegheny county coroner, in regard to opening up the Ninth street building where Frank Hough, late janitor of the Ninth street school building was injured. Mr. Hough died in Pittsburg and the coroner of that county has charge of the matter. Mr. Nickeson was told to go ahead with any repairs that might be necessary at the school building, as it wouldn't interfere with the inquest. The coroner did not state whether or not an inquest would be held.

BUCHANAN-LAMBERT WEDDING IS EVENT

Miss Theressa Lambert Becomes Bride of Cornelius Buchanan

POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE

Uniting in marriage two of Charleroi's most popular young people, Rev. W. D. Fries, pastor of St. Jerome's Catholic church this morning pronounced the words which made Cornelius Buchanan and Miss Theressa C. Lambert husband and wife. The affair took place at St. Jerome's church at 7 o'clock and the ceremony was performed in the presence of only the immediate relatives and friends of the two families. A wedding breakfast was served following the nupitals at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Ellen Lambert, in North Charleroi.

The bride attired in a neat traveling suit was attended by Miss Cecelia Moran of Uniontown, while the groom's brother, Frank Buchanan acted as his best man. Nupital high mass was said by Rev. Fries.

Forming the decorations at the bride's home was a profusion of flowers and greens. The color scheme of yellow and white was prettily carried out with palms and greens artictically arranged in the dining room and parlors forming a beautiful contrast. The reception in itself was a brilliant event. Upon the return of the bride and groom from a trip to the Great Lakes and Mackinac Islands, where they will spend two weeks, they will be tendered another reception. Th happy couple will live in North Charleroi.

Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan have a wide acquaintanceship in this community. The bride is a beautiful and accom-

STATE ENGINEERS BUSY NOW SURVEYING ROUTES

Party at Work Today on Lincoln Avenue Extension

TO GO THROUGH SPEERS

Roads Lead in That Direction to Points in Parts of Three Counties

Demonstrating that the State means business and as evidence that work on local roads is to be done this fall, O. K. Taylor and a party of State engineers are today continuing engineering work on route No. 118, started Monday. There are three engineers including Mr. Taylor here now and two more will be here this week to make surveys and set stakes They will later possibly be engaged on route No. 247, which also leads throug Charleroi and crosses the river at Speers. Route No. 268 of the river boulevard, which branches off to Waynesburg, Greene county, also touches the other routes at Speers.

Today Mr. Taylor and his corps of engineer are engaged on the Lincoln avenue extension. This is along the route from Greensburg to Washington passing through Charleroi, on its way to Washington. State Highway Commissioner E. M. Bigelow has promised that the State will aid in paving Lincoln avenue on route No. 247.

Mr. Taylor was taken over the routes Monday and went to Speers with a party of Charleroi business men and road boosters. It was found that rights of the way would be easy to secure for an improved road on the west side of the Pennsylvania railroad tracks. The new road, which is to be built to Speers from First street and MsKean avenue, Charleroi will be on the west side of the tracks to the Speers station where it joins Route No. 268. It is likely that the surveying work will be finished this week

The Presbytery will be asked by the representatives of the Washington Avenue church to sanction the call extended to Rev. Burson, and accepted by him. He has been a member of the Chartiers Presbytery.

PARTY NARROWLY ESCAPES RAPIDS

Monongahela Valley Party is Warned Just in Time to Avoid Dangers

ON WAY TO STEUBENVILLE

Only by good fortune was a possible accident prevented which might have resulted in the death of R. D. Briner and party last week while journeying to Steubenville, Ohio. Mr. Briner with his wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Evans, of Charleroi and Mrs. Joseph Cooper of Lock No. 3, were on their way to Steubenville in the former's motor boat.

Leaving Pittsburg they started down the Ohio river, Mr. Briner believing that he could make the run to Steubenville successfully. When nearing Lock No. 2, he noticed the crew of the steamer Rescue bekoning frantically to him to come ashore. He was then informed that to have gone on would have meant sure death. There were rapids at Lock No. 2 through which it was an impossibility to have taken the launch. Mr. Briner tied up the boat above the Lock a short distance and the party proceeded to Steubenville by train. They had a pilot bring them back to Pittsburg and returned home on Sunday.

West Bethlehem Prepares to Open Its High School

T. H. Dague and Colin Swagler were named as a committee to secure a desirable instructor for the place and they are to make their report within a few days.

DOWN TO BUSINESS.

What's the cause of all this political turmoil that seems to prevail, not only in our State but throughout every other Commonwealth to a greater or less degree? The people seem to be aroused, and are with one accord demanding a change in the methods of conducting public affairs, as well eliminating the political boss and dictator from the control of municipal as well as State government. It is apparent to all thoughtful students of economics that the old order is changing, and that the change is for the benefit of the people rather than the politicians.

The truth of the matter is the people are getting down to business, and are demanding that the affairs of the public be given the same careful attention that is given to private business matters There is a growing conviction that the conduct of public affairs is costing the people too much, as well as a realization that public extravagance like chickens come home to roost. With the high cost of living is a realization that taxes are too high; that public expenditures are not as a rule made in the interests of the people who pay the taxes, but are largely devoted to perpetuate political misrule and cater to private and personal interests of corporations and individuals. Starting with the investigations of the trusts, the publicity of the stock watering projects and the exposure of the general crookedness that has been employed to flimflam the people, a general awakening is the result. The people are getting down to business, and are demanding that business methods prevail in the conduct of public affairs. The old order changeth, and the new is bound to be installed.

STABILITY COUNTS.

Those people who are in favor of changing the State or National constitution every new moon, or when something comes in conflict with certain claims or desires, have an opportunity to see what a stupendous proposition it is and the complexities and uncertainties that arise and are encounter in the operation. This is evidenced by the recent changes in the sections governing the time for holding the elections In the effort to cut down the number of elections and simplify the process, all sorts of trouble has arisen, which even the keenest legal minds were not able to foresee. It will probably require one or more decisions of the Supreme Court to straighten out the tangle, to say nothing of the public turmoil and inconvenience entailed.

It is not an easy matter to change so important an instrument as a State or National constitution, as experienced and astute statemen are well aware, and those who are most clamorous for changes would be the worst possible ones to have control of public affairs. Anything that creates an uncertainty in public affairs would tend to entail business and industrial chaos, and this is disastrous to progress and prosperity. The present political confusion shows what happens in industrial circles each time the tariff is tinkered. The same uncertainty that now exists as to who may and who may not be elected to municipal office prevails in industrial circles, when the tariff is meddled with and the people suffer in consequence. The fewer constitutional changes we have the better off is the public as a rule, and the less industrial affairs are interferred with the more prosperous are they likely to become.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Speaking of former wasteful methods employed in the great industries James D. Wilson, who as a young man held a responsible position with the Liebig Beef Extract company in South America in the late sixties, told how millions of dollars worth of products were wasted just to get the extract which has made the company bearing its name famous.

"Our plant was located at Montevideo, in Uruguay, on the Plata rier," said Mr. Wilson, "and we slaughtered 700 head of cattle a day. The meat was cut up and cooked to a certain point in large pans and then the liquor condensed into the extract. The meat, which was still a good food product, was dumped into the river, fifty tons of it a day. Just before I left—I was there five years— they began drying the meat and grinding it into powder to be used as fertilizer. They used to burn the bones to get rid of them, but afterward they utilized them too for a by-product. I've seen droves of cattle containing 10,000 head driven in from off the pampas, or prairies, we'd call them here. That's a big bunch of cattle to see together at one time, and you can imagine the magnitude of the beef extract business, even at the early period when I was with the concern.

"This man Liebig, the founder of the business, had a somewhat peculiar career. He was a German bricklayer, and somehow he became interested in the beef extract business. He was a man of much force of character and when he tried to finance a company in Germany to go to South America to embark in the business on a large scale, the German financiers passed his scheme up. He went over to England, and with English and Scottish capital succeeded in putting his project through. It was a bold enterprise at the time, but it succeeded and Liebig's Beef Extract is still a leader in its class on the market."

No candidate for any county office ever had a more deserving claim for the consideration of the Republican voters of Washington county than John H. Bowers for county treasurer.

You Are Next Door to Paris

Paris and Paris Fashions Are Not 3,500 Miles Away. The Suits, Dresses and Millinery That Paris Inspires Are at Your Very Door Through the Medium of Horne's in Pittsburgh.

ONE is prone to think of Paris fashions as being for the comparative few who have the time and opportunity to visit Paris itself.

There may have been a time when that was true, but that has long since been done away with.

The Joseph Horne Company of Pittsburgh maintains an extensive bureau at 21 Rue d'Hauteville, Paris. We also have a special correspondent whose business it is to visit the atelieres of Paris, and who, each week, sends us a letter and pictures descriptive of the very newest things that the new-loving Parisiennes wear. She visits the salons of Dress, Paquin, Callot, Louise, Maria Guy and the other famous names are household words with the fashionable world. So we get direct and authentic information of the newest fabrics, the newest trimmings, the newest style developments in suits, dresses and millinery.

Particularly in millinery, much comes direct from the Paris artists themselves. In other instances, our information is converted in New York or in our own work rooms into faithful duplicates of the Paris styles.

The above illustration is an exact copy of a tailored street hat suitable for mid-season wear. It is typical of a group of hats we have had made from Paris models. By using American materials and American workmanship, we are able to sell these tailored hats, of which this is one sample, at $5.00, $6.00, $6.75, $7.50, $8.75, $10.00, $12.50

ANY clever woman knows that given a model she can trim a hat or make a blouse, and obtain effective results. That is what we are doing all the time.

This enables us to offer Paris styles—styles with all the chic, daintiness, delicacy and refinement of the originals—at prices far much less than the originals would cost.

So, you will see what a simple matter it is for you to step on a car or a train and come to Horne's, where your scope is tremendous. You will not be limited to one or two or three or four styles, but you will have dozens from which to choose, be it in suits, dresses or millinery.

From what we have said about Paris, do not allow yourself to gain the impression of high prices. We have a great many lovely creations, the prices of which are hundreds of dollars, but the great bulk and volume of our business is the medium-priced apparel.

We make a great specialty of women's tailored suits at $25.00. Other suits $15.00 to $250.00.

Millinery as inexpensive as you wish. Trimmed hats for $5.00, up to $110.00.

have to reverse itself to sustain Judge Davis'opinion . The probable elimination of the fight for burgess, tax collector and additional councilmen meets with favor, as the question was sprung so unexpectedly on the public that no one was ready for the contest, and the issue had not been thoroughly discussed and considered by the people.

If the names are not permitted to appear on the ballots and Judge Davis' opinion should happen to stand, all that could happen would be vacancies which would have to be filled by appointments. In the meantime the decision of the commissioners is awaited with much interest in Charleroi.

Finally Ascended Mountain.

After years of effort to reach its summit, which lies 6,500 feet above sea level, Mount Hothnam, Australia, has at last been conquered by motorists. The other day two motorists climbed up to its highest summit through gum tree forests, and over vast wastes of fern and sand. Fully 100 cars have attempted to climb this mountain but failed. The grades are so sharp that it is difficult in a long pull to lubricate the front cylinders of motors.

Cannot Cast the Future.

A man may presume to know much of what is passing, but he dare not predict what part of the passing show shall disappear, as a fashion does, in time. It must follow, as no man can pretend to place his finger unerringly on just that particular part, then no man can begin to tell just what man or woman living today will be revered in time to come.

Brown's Ferry is The Scene of a Daring Burglary

Eidently thinking they would secure a large sum of money burglars at an early hour Sunday morning entered the home of Misses Mary and Sarah Draden and their sister, Mrs. Martha Marshall, at Brown's Ferry, near Rices Landing The unknown house-breakers received but $8.50 and a gold watch valued at $30 for their trouble.

The boldness of the robbery caused considerable alarm in the neighborhood. Word was sent to Charleroi for bloodhounds and they were taken to the spot at an early hour Sunday. The trail of the two men after they left the house was followed to the river bank, where it is believed they escaped in a skiff.

Two white men were noticed by the three women loitering about their home and they were somewhat alarmed. On Thursday night of last week their milk house was entered and a large quantity of milk and butter carried away. Friday night all was peaceful and quiet, but fearing that the two men would return the Misses Draden and Mrs. Marshall had Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kelley come to their home to stay Saturday night.

Awakened from their slumbers by a crashing noise at an early hour all hurried into their clothes and Mr. Kelly started down the stairs. At the foot of the stairway he was confronted by two masked men with revolvers. They demanded that he hold up his hands and he was securely tied to a bed while the women were warned to be quiet.

The shorter of the two burglars then stood guard while the other ransacked the house thoroughly. They secured the $8.50 and the watch belonging to Mrs. Marshall. Kelly was released soon after the departure of the two masked men, but by the time he had secured help the robbers had had ample time to get safely away.

J. H. BOWERS FOR TREASURER

There is not a town, village or district, in which he cannot call on acquaintances and friends. They got to know him much more for the political contests he has made for his friends than for any efforts ever made in his own behalf. Much of his political sagacity and labor have been devoted to the help of others and these others and their friends are now rallying to his aid. He has always been active for others, loyal and fair to all and no matter what the outcome of the approaching contest he will be found "four square to all the winds that blow."

He is a self-made man in business as in politics. He has succeded, but it was through his own hard work, energy and ability. These results are due to square dealing in his relations with all, to his loyalty to his friends, to the principles of his party and to its candidates. Is it any wonder he stands so high and strong in the estimation of the leaders of his party as a prominent candidate?

Supreme Court Renders Decision on Election Issue

OPINION IS SET ASIDE

Judge Davis' Decision in Favor of McKeesport Won't Apply Now Locally

It is possible that Charleroi's burgess, tax collector and two additional councilmen may not be ripped out of office after all. Following on the heels of the decision of Judge Davis of the Allegheny county courts that the Legislative act extending the terms of these officials until the elections of 1913 was unconstitutional, comes another court decision that completely reverses the one rendered by Judge Davis. This decision is one rendered by the Supreme Court, and was made in a similar case which originated in the courts of Adams county.

The case in question was that of a director of the poor, whose term had been extended by the constitutional amendments which changed the elections. The contention was made that the term could not be extended, and another candidate was nominated and elected. The incumbent refused to vacate, and the successor who had been elected began ouster proceedings in the lower court decided against the latter, and the case was appealed to the Supreme Court, which sustained the decision of the lower court. This decision has just been published and was dug up in Pittsburg Monday, after the furore which prompted many candidates to file petitions for the offices which were at first thought to hold over.

While petitions were filed from Charleroi for candidates for burgess, tax collector and the councilmen who are supposed to be ripped out if the decision of Judge Davis stood, the outcome is not yet decided. Up to the present time the county commissioners have not decided whether they will permit these officials' names to appear on the ballot. They have been taking counsel on the matter, and yesterday H. R. Campbell, chief clerk, stated in a conversation by telephone that a decision would probably be rendered by tomorrow whether or not the names of burgess, tax collector and the additional councilmen affected would be permitted to appear on the ballot.

In view of the recent Supreme court decision, which has just now been dug up, it is rather expected that the commissioners will rule against permitting the names mentioned to appear on the ballot. It is probable that Judge Davis' decision will be appealed to the higher court, as it is the concensus of legal opinion that the Supreme Court would

This morning the C. D. and P. Telephone company received at their local office through the Western Electric Company new equipment which will be installed here. The Western Electric Company will put in the new system for the company here and the commercial traffic and plant departments will occupy the entire second floor of the Charleroi Savings and Trust company building.

The common battery system will be installed, which means that on January 1, 1912, the time proposed to have the work finished, Charleroi people wanting to get central will not have to exercise their muscles turning a crank to get central, but will merely have to lift the receiver and put it to their ear. Central will respond.

Not only will new plant equipment be necessary but new cable work and the requiring of all telephones will be installed. New telephone instruments will have to be installed. When finished the local plant will be one of the best and most complete along the valley.

SCHOOL BOARD VOTES TO PROVIDE A ROOM

Changes to be Made in Crest Avenue and Fifth Street Buildings to Give Space for High School

WILL ELECT NEW TEACHER AS SOON AS POSSIBLE

By accepting a report and the recommendation of the educational committee of which J. M. Hill is chairman, the school board at an adjourned meeting Monday night took action that will mean the establishment of another room for High School. The room will be prepared as soon as possible. No High School teacher was elected for the new room thus created and this matter will be taken up as soon as Prof James G. Pentz, the superintendent of Schools, can secure some applicants.

The plan of the educational committee and embodied in their recommendations is to move one of the primary rooms from the new Crest avenue building to the former church building adjoining. The grades will be moved down a room and one of the grades from the Fifth street school, probably the eigth grade will be moved to the Crest avenue building. This will make a place for the much needed High School room. Work will begin at once on fixing up the room in the former church building for occupancy and the change will be effected just as soon as possible. High School is so crowded now that the best work cannot be accomplished.

There was only a discussion of the matter of securing a new janitor for the Ninth street building to take the place of Frank Hough, whose death occurred last week. There are several applicants for the position and the election will occur a little later

President T. M. Faddis presided at the meeting and directors present were J. M. Hill, Charles Wallgren G. B. Nelan, Ira L. Nickeson and D.H. Glunt, none being absent.

DIPHTHERIA CASES ARE REPORTED HERE

Quarantine is Established at Three Different Homes in Charleroi

There are four cases of diptheria now in Charleroi according to the report of Health Officer William Darby The town has been particularly free from contagious diseases during the summer. There are two cases of diphtheria at 702 Third street, one at 303 Meadow avenue and one at a home on Washington avenue, near Third street. Last week the schools at Daisytown were compelled to be closed on acocunt of an epidemic of diphtheria.

"AFFINITY" IS THE CAUSE OF A LOT OF TROUBLE

Two homes have been wrecked and two characters smirched because of the arrest last Friday of S. Irwin Lippencott, of East Waynesburg, and the probable arrest of Mrs. Myrta Gregg Shriver, of the same place, Lippencott's alleged soul mate, on indictments found by a Greene county grand jury.

A pretty face whose possessor has a $50,000 bank roll and an automobile for joy rides appears to have lured Lippencott to this domestic doom.

Lippencott who is a steam engineer, is aged 50 years, and is the father of five children, two of whom are married, and has a good motherly-looking wife. Mrs. Shirver is the spouse of P. A. Shriver, a liveryman of the town, and a highly respected citizen. She is aged 33 years of the brunet type of beauty, and is noted for her good looks. Mrs. Shriver who recently came into possession of a fortune inherited from her father will be called upon to defend herself against a $25,000 suit for damages.

Mrs. Lippencott will ask for the amount through her nephew C. W. Waycoff, district attorney of Greene county to help heal her wounded feelings.

The strange infatuation between Lippencott and Mrs. Shriver is the talk of the town. Two attempts to take their lives have been made. Six weeks ago Mrs Shriver had a physician remove three buckshots from her neck, after being fired at by an unknown assassin. One year ago Lippencott was shot from ambush. When taken to the Greene county hospital 10 birdshot were removed from his body.

Lippencott, in jail and unable to give bail, says he wants the world to understand that Mrs. Shriver is not his soulmate but that he is "her hired man." Mrs. Lippencott, unresentful of her husband's actions, says

Ninth Street School Building Matter Taken Up—No Statement on Inquest

Ira L. Nickeson, secretary of the school board, proceeding under instructions of the board this morning telephoned to the Allegheny county coroner in regard to opening up the Ninth street building where Frank Hough, late janitor of the Ninth street school building was injured. Mr. Hough died in Pittsburg and the coroner of that county has charge of the matter. Mr. Nickeson was told to go ahead with any repairs that might be necessary at the school building, as it wouldn't interfere with the inquest. The coroner did not state whether or not an inquest would be held.

BUCHANAN-LAMBERT WEDDING IS EVENT

POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE

Uniting in marriage two of Charleroi's most popular young people, Rev. W. D. Fries, pastor of St. Jerome's Catholic church this morning pronounced the words which made Cornelius Buchanan and Miss Theressa C. Lambert husband and wife. The affair took place at St. Jerome's church at 7 o'clock and the ceremony was performed in the presence of only the immediate relatives and friends of the two families. A wedding breakfast was served following the nupitals at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Ellen Lambert, in North Charleroi.

The bride attired in a neat traveling suit was attended by Miss Cecelia Moran of Uniontown, while the groom's brother, Frank Buchanan acted as his best man. Nupital high mass was said by Rev. Fries.

Forming the decorations at the bride's home was a profusion of flowers and greens. The color scheme of yellow and white was prettily carried out with palms and greens artictically arranged in the dining room and parlors forming a beautiful contrast. The reception in itself was a brilliant event. Upon the return of the bride and groom from a trip to the Great Lakes and Mackinac Islands, where they will spend two weeks, they will be tendered another reception. Th happy couple will live in North Charleroi.

Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan have a wide acquaintanceship in this community. The bride is a beautiful and accom-

Monongahela Valley Party is Warned Just in Time to Avoid Dangers

ON WAY TO STEUBENVILLE

Only by good fortune was a possible accident prevented which might have resulted in the death of R. D. Briner and party last week while journeying to Steubenville, Ohio. Mr. Briner with his wife, Mr and Mrs. William Evans, of Charleroi and Mrs. Joseph Cooper of Lock No. 3, were on their way to Steubenville in the former's motor boat.

Leaving Pittsburg they started down the Ohio river, Mr. Briner believing that he could make the run to Steubenville successfully. When nearing Lock No. 2, he noticed the crew of the steamer Rescue bekoning frantically to him to come ashore. He was then informed that to have gone on would have meant sure death. There were rapids at Lock No. 2 through which it was an impossibility to have taken the launch. Mr. Briner tied up the boat above the Lock a short distance and the party proceeded to Steubenville by train. They had a pilot bring them back to Pittsburg and returned home on Sunday.

West Bethlehem Prepares to Open Its High School

The members of the school board of West Bethlehem township met at West Zollarsville Saturday afternoon for the purpose of electing a principal of the high school which is to be opened this fall, but were unable to reach a decision on any of the candidates for the place. T. H. Dague and Colin Swagler were named as a committee to secure a desirable instructor for the place and they are to make their report within a few days.

Party at Work Today on Lincoln Avenue Extension

TO GO THROUGH SPEERS

Roads Lead in That Direction to Points in Parts of Three Counties

Demonstrating that the State means business and as evidence that work on local roads is to be done this fall, O. K. Taylor and a party of State engineers are today continuing engineering work on route No. 128, started Monday. There are three engineers including Mr. Taylor here now and two more will be here this week to make surveys and set stakes They will later possibly be engaged on route No. 247, which also leads throug Charleroi and crosses the river at Speers. Route No. 268 of the river boulevard, which branches off to Waynesburg, Greene county, also touches the other routes at Speers.

Today Mr. Taylor and his corps of engineer are engaged on the Lincoln avenue extension. This is along the route from Greensburg to Washington passing through Charleroi, on its way to Washington. State Highway Commissioner E. M. Bigelow has promised that the State will aid in paving Lincoln avenue on route No. 247.

Mr. Taylor was taken over the routes Monday and went to Speers with a party of Charleroi business men and road boosters. It was found that rights of the way would be easy to secure for an improved road on the west side of the Pennsylvania railroad tracks. The new road, which is to be built to Speers from First street and MsKean avenue, Charleroi will be on the west side of the tracks to the Speers station where it joins Route No. 268. It is likely that the surveying work will be finished this week

DOWN TO BUSINESS.

What's the cause of all this political turmoil that seems to prevail, not only in our State but throughout every other Commonwealth to a greater or less degree? The people seem to be aroused, and are with one accord demanding a change in the methods of conducting public affairs, as well eliminating the political boss and dictator from the control of municipal as well as State government. It is apparent to all thoughtful students of economics that the old order is changing, and that the change is for the benefit of the people rather than the politicians.

The truth of the matter is the people are getting down to business, and are demanding that the affairs of the public be given the same careful attention that is given to private business matters There is a growing conviction that the conduct of public affairs is costing the people too much, as well as a realization, that public extravagance, like chickens, comes home to roost. With the high cost of living is a realization that taxes are too high; that public expenditures are not as a rule made in the interests of the people who pay the taxes, but are largely devoted to perpetuate political misrule and cater to private and personal interests of corporations and individuals. Starting with the investigations of the trusts, the publicity of the stock watering projects and the exposure of the general crookedness that has been employed to flimflam the people, a general awakening is the result. The people are getting down to business, and are demanding that business methods prevail in the conduct of public affairs. The old order changeth, and the new is bound to be installed.

STABILITY COUNTS.

Those people who are in favor of changing the State or National constitution every new moon, or when something comes in conflict with certain claims or desires, have an opportunity to see what a stupendous proposition it is and the complexities and uncertainties that arise and are encounter in the operation. This is evidenced by the recent changes in the sections governing the time for holding the elections In the effort to cut down the number of elections and simplify the process, all sorts of trouble has arisen, which even the keenest legal minds were not able to foresee. It will probably require one or more decisions of the Supreme Court to straighten out the tangle, to say nothing of the public turmoil and inconvenience entailed.

It is not an easy matter to change so important an instrument as a State or National constitution, as experienced and astute statemen are well aware, and those who are most clamorous for changes would be the worst possible ones to have control of public affairs. Anything that creates an uncertainty in public affairs would tend to entail business and industrial chaos, and this is disastrous to progress and prosperity. The present political confusion shows what happens in industrial circles each time the tariff is tinkered. The same uncertainty that now exists as to who may and who may not be elected to municipal office prevails in industrial circles, when the tariff is meddled with and the people suffer in consequence. The fewer constitutional changes we have the better off is the public as a rule, and the less industrial affairs are interferred with the more prosperous are they likely to become.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Speaking of former wasteful methods employed in the great industries James D. Wilson, who as a young man held a responsible position with the Liebig Beef Extract company in South America in the late sixties, told how millions of dollars worth of products were wasted just to get the extract which has made the company bearing its name famous.

"Our plant was located at Montevideo, in Uruguay, on the Plata rier," said Mr. Wilson, "and we slaughtered 700 head of cattle a day. The meat was cut up and cooked to a certain point in large pans and then the liquor condensed into the extract. The meat, which was still a good food product, was dumped into the river, fifty tons of it a day. Just before I left—I was there five years— they began drying the meat and grinding it into powder to be used as fertilizer. They used to burn the bones to get rid of them, but afterward they utilized them too for a by-product. I've seen droves of cattle containing 10,000 head driven in from off the pampas, or prairies, we'd call them here. That's a big bunch of cattle to see together at one time, and you can imagine the magnitude of the beef extract business, even at the early period when I was with the concern.

"This man Liebig, the founder of the business, had a somewhat peculiar career. He was a German bricklayer, and somehow he became interested in the beef extract business. He was a man of much force of character and when he tried to finance a company in Germany to go to South America to embark in the business on a large scale, the German financiers passed his scheme up. He went over to England, and with English and Scottish capital succeeded in putting his project through. It was a bold enterprise at the time, but it succeeded and Liebig's Beef Extract is still a leader in its class on the market."

No candidate for any county office ever had a more deserving claim for the consideration of the Republican voters of Washington county than John H. Bowers for county treasurer.

You Are Next Door to Paris

Paris and Paris Fashions Are Not 3,500 Miles Away. The Suits, Dresses and Millinery That Paris Inspires Are at Your Very Door Through the Medium of Horne's in Pittsburgh.

ONE is prone to think of Paris fashions as being for the comparative few who have the time and opportunity to visit Paris itself.

There may have been a time when that was true, but that has long since been done away with.

The Joseph Horne Company of Pittsburgh maintains an extensive bureau at 21 Rue d'Hauteville, Paris. We also have a special correspondent whose business it is to visit the ateliers of Paris, and who, each week, sends us a letter and pictures descriptive of the very newest things that the new-loving Parisiennes wear. She visits the salons of Drecoll, Paquin, Callot, Louise, Maria Guy and the others whose names are household words with the fashionable world. So we get direct and authentic information of the newest fabrics, the newest trimmings, the newest style developments in suits, dresses and millinery.

Particularly in millinery, much comes direct from the Paris artists themselves. In other instances, our information is converted in New York or in our own work rooms into faithful duplicates of the Paris styles.

The above illustration is an exact copy of a tailored street hat suitable for mid-season wear. It is typical of a group of hats we have had made from Paris models. By using American materials and American workmanship, we are able to sell these tailored hats, of which this is one sample, at $5.00, $6.00, $6.75, $7.50, $8.75, $10.00, $12.50

ANY clever woman knows that given a model she can trim a hat or make a blouse, and obtain effective results. That is what we are doing all the time.

This enables us to offer Paris styles—styles with all the chic, daintiness, delicacy and refinement of the originals—at prices far much less than the originals would cost.

So, you will see what a simple matter it is for you to step on a car or a train and come to Horne's, where your scope is tremendous. You will not be limited to one or two or three or four styles, but you will have dozens from which to choose, be it in suits, dresses or millinery.

From what we have said about Paris, do not allow yourself to gain the impression of high prices. We have a great many lovely creations, the prices of which are hundreds of dollars, but the great bulk and volume of our business is the medium-priced apparel.

We make a great specialty of women's tailored suits at $25.00. Other suits $15.00 to $250.00.

Millinery as inexpensive as you wish. Trimmed hats for $5.00, up to $110.00.

have to reverse itself to sustain Judge Davis' opinion. The probable elimination of the fight for burgess, tax collector and additional councilmen meets with favor, as the question was sprung so unexpectedly on the public that no one was ready for the contest, and the issue had not been thoroughly discussed and considered by the people.

If the names are not permitted to appear on the ballots and Judge Davis' opinion should happen to stand, all that could happen would be vacancies which would have to be filled by appointments. In the meantime the decision of the commissioners is awaited with much interest in Charleroi.

Finally Ascended Mountain.

After years of effort to reach its summit, which lies 6,500 feet above sea level, Mount Hothnam, Australia, has at last been conquered by motorists. The other day two motorists climbed up to its highest summit through gum tree forests, and over vast wastes of fern and sand. Fully 100 cars have attempted to climb this mountain but failed. The grades are so sharp that it is difficult in a long pull to lubricate the front cylinders of motors.

A man may presume to know much of what is passing, but he dare not predict what part of the passing show shall disappear, as a fashion does, in time. It must follow, as no man can pretend to place his finger unerringly on just that particular part, then no man can begin to tell just what man or woman living today will be revered in time to come.

Brown's Ferry is The Scene of a Daring Burglary

Eidently thinking they would secure a large sum of money burglars at an early hour Sunday morning entered the home of Misses Mary and Sarah Draden and their sister, Mrs. Martha Marshall, at Brown's Ferry, near Rices Landing The unknown house-breakers received but $8.50 and a gold watch valued at $30 for their trouble.

The boldness of the robbery caused considerable alarm in the neighborhood. Word was sent to Charleroi for bloodhounds and they were taken to the spot at an early hour Sunday. The trail of the two men after they left the house was followed to the river bank, where it is believed they escaped in a skiff.

Two white men were noticed by the three women loitering about their home and they were somewhat alarmed. On Thursday night of last week their milk house was entered and a large quantity of milk and butter carried away. Friday night all was peaceful and quiet, but fearing that the two men would return the Misses Draden and Mrs. Marshall had Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kelley come to their home to stay Saturday night.

Awakened from their slumbers by a crashing noise at an early hour all hurried into their clothes and Mr.Kelly started down the stairs. At the foot of the stairway he was confronted by two masked men with revolvers. They demanded that he hold up his hands and he was securely tied to a bed while the women were warned to be quiet.

The shorter of the two burglars then stood guard while the other ransacked the house thoroughly. They secured the $8.50 and the watch belonging to Mrs. Marshall. Kelly was released soon after the departure of the two masked men, but by the time he had secured help the robbers had had ample time to get safely away.

White, Not Smith.

It was J. B. White, and not J. B. Smith who was sent to jail at Washington Tuesday charged with tearing down bills hung by the constable at Stockdale. Charles Smith is the man who wanted the money which White, it seems, didn't want to pay. Anyhow there was a mixup and when the report of the matter appeared it was Smith who had been sent to jail while White's name was not mentioned.

EDWARD CALLAGHAN SAYS THAT HE IS READY FOR BRUCE

To the Editor of the Charleroi Mail:

Sir—I herby acknowledge the acceptance of my challenge made to the various candidates for the office of sheriff of Washington county "As to the Best Methods to Prevent Crime." Whiler I would prefer to meet my opponets for the office of sheriff in friendly debate, yet it will afford me very great pleasure to cross swords with Leroy Bruce and defend the negative side of the question. While I would prefer the Coyle Theatre, on September 24, at 2:30 p. m. yet if Mr. Bruce will meet me at your office on Saturday, September 16, between the hours of 1 and 2 o'clock p. m. we can make satisfactory arrangements.

Yours Truly,
Edward Callaghan

J. H. BOWERS FOR TREASURER

There is not a town, village or district, in which he cannot call on acquaintances and friends. They got to know him much more for the political contests he has made for his friends than for any efforts ever made in his own behalf. Much of his political sagacity and labor have been devoted to the help of others and these others and their friends are now rallying to his aid. He has always been active for others, loyal and fair to all and no matter what the outcome of the approaching contest he will be found "four square to all the winds that blow."

He is a self-made man in business as in politics. He has succeded, but it was through his own hard work, energy and ability. These results are due to square dealing in his relations with all, to his loyalty to his friends, to the principles of his party and to its candidates. Is it any wonder he stands so high and strong in the estimation of the leaders of his party as a prominent candidate?

(Treasurer, vote for one.)

Tobacco Trust In China.

The tobacco consumption of China is very large and is mostly homegrown. The finer grade of leaf comes from the Philippines, but the whole situation is controlled by the tobacco trust.
